Welcome to The Mines Golf Course. The golf course is built approximately 150 feet above gypsum mines that were utilized as early as the 1860's and throughout the 1900's. In an effort to preserve the history of the property, various features of the mines and the mining process were used in the construction of the course. The pump house near the first tee was built with brick saved from the property. The directional signs were made with wooden timbers from the mining process. The eighth hole is located where a natural sand pit was used for the mining operation. Even the water used to irrigate the course is pumped directly from the mines. Thank you for choosing to enjoy your day at The Mines Golf Course.
